

"Mr. Walthers, essays"

My name is Kevin Mejia, I am 11 years old. Today I want to tell you about my inspirations.

My parents and all the people that are around me give me a good example in my life.

My parents are very hard workers and they came from Mexico years ago. They explained how everything turns new for both, but something never change their values. My parents remind me education is the best way to be someone in life, that's Why school is important.

Respect everyone the way you want to be respected and to be a good person and citizen.

My teachers give me knowledge.

Thanks to all of them I learn everyday something new about

History, Art, Math, Music, P.E, Reading,

Social Studies and every thing^{that} is going to help me in life.

Sometimes when my Mom and Dad have to go to the hospital that is all the way to Chicago I have to go with them.

Because my Mom needs help with a wheelchair and my Dad needs assistance to carry some stuff, I feel great because I can help my parents when they need me.

For me it's important to follow the rules in my home and school and every place where I go. Part of my responsibility is doing my homework, be ready for school every morning and help my parents in home. After I finish all my assignments I can watch TV or play my video games or go to my friends house to play with him.

One day I want to be a volunteer in some place like a Nursing Home or a Library to help people. My mom works in a Nursing Home and all the time they need volunteers so they can play with residents.
Not all the time people have to work for money. It's nice sometimes just to receive a big thank you.

My dad explains new things to me. That will happen in my life but always he says be honest, never take things from other kids, say the truth, everybody can make mistakes it's part of life. My dad is my best friend. I understand that I can't have everything I want all the time, but that is ok.

but it's O.K., I know he works hard everyday for me, He gives me the best he can.
